

Remote Senior or Principal Ecologist

Location: UK based.

Salary: £35,000-£58,000, based on experience.

Contract: Full-time, or part time, permanent

---

The role is to prepare quotes and organise ecological surveys and related activities, implementing the delivery of projects and helping to develop early years ecologists.

Key responsibilities:

- Engage with clients to define project scope, review proposals and provide guidance on ecological considerations
- Manage complex projects such as quoting, surveying, reporting, and implementation, ensuring timely delivery, resource optimization and client satisfaction.
- Prepare ecological reports and management plans and carry out quality assurance reviews for work produced by assistant ecologists and ecologists.
- Partner with other ecologists and statutory organizations to plan surveys and deliver client expectations.
- Line-manage and mentor ecologists, supporting their development in report writing, habitat mapping, and broader technical skills.
- Monitor project budgets and collaborate with project managers to ensure accurate and timely invoicing for completed work.
- Provide a balanced perspective aligned with company values, while maintaining a strong awareness of commercial and financial viability.

Essential requirements and Experience:

- Previous experience in ecological consultancy as a senior or principal
- Personal survey licences in at least two protected species.
- Full Member of CIEEM
- Experience in high quality habitat maps using software such as QGIS and Coreo
- Knowledge of ecological legislation and best practice
- Highly organised and motivated
- Excellent communication and IT skills